

Training In between the bad weather

Wednesday, 11 July 2012 14:37

Cloudbase Paragliding has yet again managed a few days training despite the bad weather we have been having lately. They have been finding small breaks in the weather to get some training done. Congratulations to both David Perry and Andy Cook for completing your CP Hill and to Jonathan Perry for EP Hill and for some great flying on Monday. Lets hope for an improvement soon so those waiting for training can carry on again soon.
